

Assignment 5

A. True [T] or False [F]:

1. Sites come up in a Google search means it's relevant (trusted). []
2. In order to get the most reliable information, it's best to stick to unbiased sources.[]
3. A top-level domain (e.g., ".gov", ".edu") is a good indicator to judge a website. []
4. For technology, news, politics and other subjects, it may be very important to have the most current information available. []
5. Some websites such as snopes.com help to detect whether some online information a hoax or not. []
6. It's not important to look at multiple sources to judge online information. []

B. How can you determine a web site purpose?

C. List three indicators to judge the online information.

D. Is Wikipedia reliable?